

Carey
Price

SAVING THE PUCK, SAVING THE PLANET

Carey Price is the goalie for the Montreal Canadiens. He likes to play hockey. He also likes to recycle. That means he likes to protect the environment. He knows that a clean planet is good for everyone.

Tonight he won a big game.

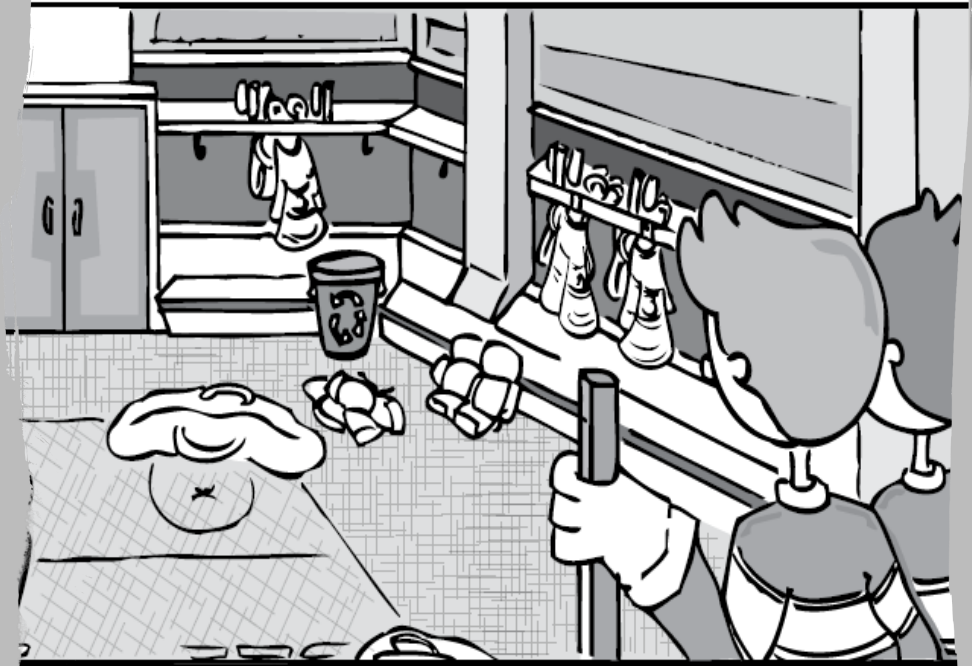

Carey is very happy, but tired and thirsty. He sits in the dressing room. He leans back against the wall.

Another player sees how tired he is and gives him a bottle of water. He drinks a whole bottle of water.

What should he do with the empty bottle?

The recycling bin is on the other side of the room. He's so tired. He feels like he can't even move.

Carey sees the garbage can next to him. It would be so easy to throw it in there, he thinks. But he doesn't.

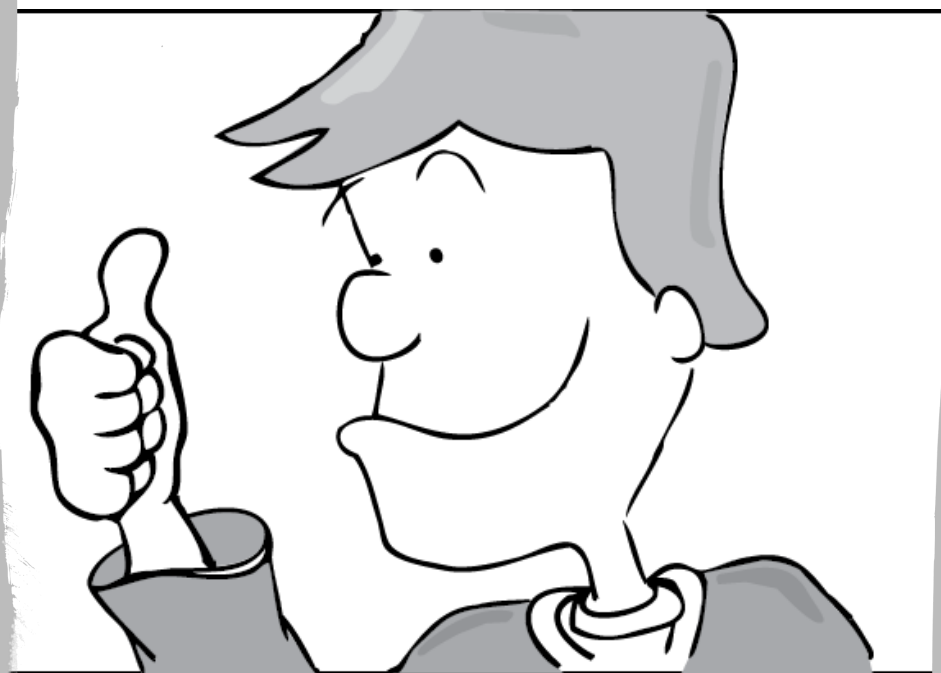

Instead, he steps over his hockey bag. He walks past his teammates. He goes around the goalie pads left on the floor. Finally, he gets to the other side of the room.

Carey drops the bottle into the recycling bin.

"He shoots he scores!" yells his teammate.

Carey smiles. He knows he has made a good choice. He knows that taking care of the environment is important. He knows it's important to recycle, even when you're tired and it would be easier not to.
